Miss Ramona Borden, Who Escaped From Sanitarium and Later Found, Blames Father for Act.

Los Angeles, May 14.- "My father didn't give me a square deal, so I had to run away," said Miss Ramona Borden, 17, daughter of Gail Borden, New York millionaire, who recently oreated a furore by running away from the New Jersey sanitarium where her father had placed her. She arrived is living temporarily in apartments on Thompson-st, in a quiet residence district of the west end.

"My father has been fearfully unfair in the stories he has given out," added Miss Borden. "The truth of the matter is, my father and I can't get along together and never could. You Mr. Boyd's nephew, Willard Woods, a see, I was with my father when I farmer, admits he attacked his uncle should have been with my mother. the police assert, and has been placed He continually found fault with me and scolded. I wanted to go to mother and my father did not want me to so he put me in a sanitarium on the plea that my nerves were worn out. Mrs. White, who is a charming woman and has some of the loveliest daughters in the world, helped me run off and took me to her home until I body of his eight-year-old brother from could get my mother there from Los Angeles, I am afraid that through anger my father has circulated some unjust reports and created unjust rumore about Mrs. White. Now I'm here with mother I'm so happy and fore I shall never go back to my father. And I don't want my father and mother to become reconciled because they tralia. Young Woman Strives in Vain to Save Father, Brother and Friend From Drowning.

York, Pa., May 14.-Expert as she is, Miss Ethel Barger lost a race with death by scarce 30 seconds. Striving to rescue three, the girl saw her father, her brother and a friend drown in the Susquehanna river. George Edward Price, 15, were in a boat fishing and were upset. None could swim, Miss Ethel leaped into her own light skiff, and, shouting encouragement, strained at the oars. Over her shoulder, one by one, she saw them drown, her father almost within reach of her

JOHN E. WILKIE TO RESIGN

Chief Special Agent for Customs Department Will Align Himself With Large Detective Agency.

Washington, May 14. - John E. Wilkie, chief special agent for the customs service and for 14 years chief of the United States secret service, will resign his official position shortly. It is said Wilkie will accept a managerial position with one of the large detective agencies. During the Spanish war Chief Wilkie gained much fame from his work against the Spanish spies. Wilkie is now in Boston in connection with the smuggling of women's dresses and he will not in Los Angeles with her mother and resign until his successor is appointed.

THE DROPPING ATROPINE

a most deadly poison, "commonly called drops," into your eyes when they are examined—is absolutely unnecessary, and very dangerous. You should never consent to having it don. Likewise, the wearing of tinted or colored lenses. In twenty-three years daily examining eyes, and in the examination of over one hundred thousand eyes, I have never found it necessary to use Atropine, or prescribe colored lenses. If you are a thinker consider this, then come in and ask questions, and give me the opportunity of proving my statements.
